Using the fax machine as a printer

You can print not only on plain paper but also on special media (transparencies/labels/envelopes).

Printing from Windows applications

You can print a file created in a Windows application.

For example, to print from Microsoft Word, proceed as follows.

1 Open the document you want to print.

2 Select [Print...] from the [File] menu.

- The [Print] dialogue box will appear. For details about the [Print] dialogue box, click [?], then click the desired item.

• Media choice

Plain Paper (Standard): For standard printing. The toner save feature will be off.

Plain Paper (Toner Save ON): To save on toner consumption. The print quality may be lowered.

Transparency: To print on a transparency.

Printing (PC)

Transparencies

Use transparencies designed for laser printing.

- Load transparency sheets one page at a time for printing. Print side must face down.
- Remove each transparency after printing and place it on a flat surface to cool and to prevent it from curling.
- Close the paper stacker extender (p. 18) while printing to prevent transparencies from curling.
- Do not re-use transparencies that have already been fed through the fax machine. This includes transparencies that have been fed through and ejected without being printed on.
- Some types of transparencies have instructions recommending which side to print on. If the print quality is poor, try printing on the other side.

Labels

Use labels designed for laser printing.

- Load label sheets one page at a time for printing. Print side must face down.
- Remove each label after printing.
- Do not use the following types of labels:
 - Labels that are wrinkled, damaged or separated from the backing sheet.
 - Any sheet of labels that has spaces in it where some of the labels have been removed.
 - Labels that do not completely cover the backing sheet (see below).

Envelopes

Use envelopes designed for laser printing. We recommend the following:

- High quality envelopes of 90 g/m² paper,
- Envelopes that have thin, sharply creased leading edges, and
- Envelopes that have diagonal seams as shown. (right)

- You can load up to 10 envelopes of 90 g/m² paper at a time for printing. Print side must face down.
- Remove each envelope after printing.
- Wrinkles may occur in some cases, even if high quality envelopes are used.
- Avoid printing in high humidity, above 70% relative humidity (RH). High humidity may cause the envelope to curl, pick up excess toner or seal the envelope.
- Avoid printing below 10 °C with less than 30% RH, or it may cause light printing.
- Store envelopes away from moisture and humidity, where they can lay flat and their edges will not be bent or damaged. The humidity should not exceed 70% RH.

Do not use envelopes with any of the following characteristics (using these may result in paper jams):

- Irregularly shaped envelopes
- Envelopes with curls, wrinkles, nicks, twists, dog-ears or other damage
- Envelopes with side seam construction
- Highly textured envelopes, or envelopes with extremely shiny surfaces
- Envelopes that seal by removing a peel-off strip
- Envelopes with more than one flap to be sealed
- Self-adhesive envelopes
- Envelopes that are baggy or not sharply creased
- Embossed envelopes
- Envelopes that have previously been printed on
- Envelopes that include cotton and/or fibre material

Do not attempt to print on any of the following types of envelopes (these may cause damage to the fax machine):

- Envelopes with clasps, snaps or tie strings
- Envelopes with transparent windows
- Envelopes that use encapsulated types of adhesive that do not require moistening but rely on pressure to seal them
