Should this occur, the unit may not operate properly. In this case, remove the disc and leave the unit turned on for about half an hour until the moisture evaporates.
- Do not install the unit in an inclined position. It is designed to be operated in a horizontal position only.
- Do not place metal objects in front or on the left side of the unit. It may limit reception of radio waves.
- Do not place the unit in a place where medical equipment is in use. It may cause a malfunction of medical instruments.
- If you use a pacemaker or other medical device, consult your physician or the manufacturer of your medical device before using the wireless LAN function.
- Do not place heavy or unstable objects on the unit.
- Do not insert any objects other than discs inside the disc slot. Doing so may cause damage to the unit or the object.

- During operation the AC adapter has to be placed on a surface with LED side up and label side down.

On power sources

- Disconnect the unit from the wall outlet if you are not going to use the unit for a long time. To disconnect the AC power cord, grasp the plug itself; never pull the cord.
- Observe following points to prevent the AC power cord being damaged. Do not use the AC power cord if it is damaged, as doing so may result in an electric shock or fire.
 - Do not pinch the AC power cord between the unit and wall, shelf, etc.
 - Do not put anything heavy on the AC power cord or pull on the AC power cord itself.
- Use the supplied AC adapter for the unit, as other AC adapters may cause a malfunction.

On adjusting volume

Do not turn up the volume while listening to a section with very low level inputs or no audio signals. If you do, your ears and the speakers may be damaged when a peak level section is played.
