Getting Started

CAUTION: Before using the phone for the first time, read the Important Safety and Legal Information included in the gray-edged pages at the back of this guide.

What's in the Box?

Your wireless phone typically comes with a battery and a charger. Optional accessories can customize your phone for maximum performance and portability.

To purchase Motorola Original™ accessories, call the Motorola Customer Call Center at 1-800-331-6456 in the United States or 1-800-461-4575 in Canada.

About this Guide

This user's guide introduces you to your Motorola wireless phone and shows you how to use its features.

Note: A reference guide for your phone is also available that describes your phone's features in more detail.

To obtain the reference guide for your phone, or another copy of this user's guide, see the Motorola Web site at:

`http://motorola.com/consumer/manuals`

or contact the Motorola Customer Call Center at 1-800-331-6456 in the United States or 1-800-461-4575 in Canada.

Optional Features

This label identifies an optional network or subscription-dependent feature that may not be offered by all service providers in all geographical areas. Contact your service provider for more information.

Optional Accessories

This label identifies a feature that requires an optional Motorola Original™ accessory.

Installing the Battery

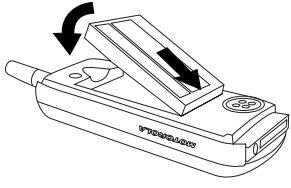
Install and charge the battery before you use your phone.

CAUTION: This phone comes with a 750 mAh (milliamp hours) battery and should be used only with Motorola Original batteries rated at 750 mAh or 1100 mAh. Use of any other battery could affect the performance of the phone and could also cause the phone to become noncompliant with the Specific Absorption Rate levels established by the FCC's Radiofrequency Exposure Guidelines.

™ Your phone is designed to be used only with Motorola Original batteries and accessories.

To Install the Battery

1. Remove the phone's back cover as described in "Changing Your Phone's Cover" on page 9.
2. Insert the battery, printed arrow first, under the tabs at the bottom of the battery compartment and push down.



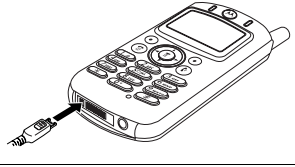
3. Replace the phone's cover.

Charging the Battery

New batteries are shipped partially charged. Before you can use your phone, you need to install and charge the battery, as indicated by the following instructions. Some batteries perform best after several full charge/discharge cycles.

To Charge the Battery

1. Plug the charger into the left jack on the bottom of your phone.



2. Plug the other end of the charger into the appropriate electrical outlet.
3. When your phone indicates Charge Complete, remove the charger.

When you charge the battery, the battery level indicator in the upper right corner of the display shows how much of the charging process is complete. See “Battery Level Indicator” on page 15.

Note: If your phone‘s ring style is set to Vibrate, that setting will automatically change to Loud while the battery is being charged. You can change the setting back to Vibrate. See “Setting a Ring Style” on page 31.

Battery Use

Caution: To prevent injuries or burns, do not allow metal objects to contact or short-circuit the battery terminals.

To maximize battery performance:

- Always use Motorola Original™ battery chargers. The phone warranty does not cover damage caused from using non-Motorola battery chargers.
- New batteries or batteries that have been stored for a long time may require a longer initial charge time.
- Keep the battery at or near room temperature when charging.
- Do not expose batteries to temperatures below -10° C (14° F) or above 45° C (113° F). Always take your phone with you when you leave your vehicle.
- When you do not intend to use a battery for a while, store it uncharged in a cool, dark, dry place, such as a refrigerator.
- Over time, batteries gradually wear down and require longer charging times. This is normal. If you charge your battery regularly and notice a decrease in talk time or an increase in charging time, then it is probably time to buy a new battery.

The rechargeable batteries that power this product must be disposed of properly and may need to be recycled. Refer to your battery's label for battery type. Contact your local recycling center for proper disposal methods. Never dispose of batteries in a fire because they may explode.

Changing Your Phone's Cover

Since you can change your phone's covers and keypads, it may not appear exactly as the phone pictured. All key locations, sequences, and functions remain the same with any of the covers.

Important: To maintain compliance with FCC RF exposure guidelines, use only the housings supplied by Motorola with your CDMA phone, or a housing approved by Motorola for use with your CDMA phone. Use of housings not supplied by Motorola, or not approved by Motorola for use with your CDMA phone, may cause the phone-housing combination to exceed FCC RF exposure guidelines.

Specific Absorption Rate Data

This model wireless phone meets the government's requirements for exposure to radio waves.

Your wireless phone is a radio transmitter and receiver. It is designed and manufactured not to exceed limits for exposure to radio frequency (RF) energy set by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) of the U.S. Government and by the Canadian regulatory authorities. These limits are part of comprehensive guidelines and establish permitted levels of RF energy for the general population. The guidelines are based on standards that were developed by independent scientific organizations through periodic and thorough evaluation of scientific studies. The standards include a substantial safety margin designed to assure the safety of all persons, regardless of age or health.

The exposure standard for wireless mobile phones employs a unit of measurement known as the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit set by the FCC and by the Canadian regulatory authorities is 1.6 W/kg.[1] Tests for SAR are conducted using standard operating positions accepted by the FCC and by Industry Canada with the phone transmitting at its highest certified power level in all tested frequency bands. Although the SAR is determined at the highest certified power level, the actual SAR level of the phone while operating can be well below the maximum value. This is because the phone is designed to operate at multiple power levels so as to use only the power required to reach the network. In general, the closer you are to a wireless base station, the lower the power output.

Before a phone model is available for sale to the public in the U.S. and Canada, it must be tested and certified to the FCC and Industry Canada that it does not exceed the limit established by each government for safe exposure. The tests are performed in positions and locations (e.g., at the ear and worn on the body) reported to the FCC and available for review by Industry Canada. The highest SAR value for this model phone when tested for use at the ear is 1.58 W/kg, and when worn on the body, as described in this user guide, is 0.6 W/kg (Body-worn measurements differ among phone models, depending upon available accessories and regulatory requirements).[2]

While there may be differences between the SAR levels of various phones and at various positions, they all meet the governmental requirements for safe exposure. Please note that improvements to this product model could cause differences in the SAR value for later products; in all cases, products are designed to be within the guidelines.

Additional information on Specific Absorption Rates (SAR) can be found on the Cellular Telecommunications & Internet Association (CTIA) Web site:

`http://phonefacts.net`

or the Canadian Wireless Telecommunications Association (CWTA) Web site:

`http://www.cwta.ca`

1. In the United States and Canada, the SAR limit for mobile phones used by the public is 1.6 watts/kg (W/kg) averaged over one gram of tissue. The standard incorporates a substantial margin of safety to give additional protection for the public and to account for any variations in measurements.
2. The SAR information includes the Motorola testing protocol, assessment procedure, and measurement uncertainty range for this product.
